Greetings DLA parents and students-

As we continue with virtual learning, I wanted to take a moment to remind all students and families of the importance of regular school attendance. Attendance at DLA is determined according to work completion. It is expected that all students at DLA spend a minimum of four hours per day on the Edgenuity platform working on their assigned course work. It is important that all students work on their assigned courses and meet their weekly target completion rates. Failure to do so will result in the student receiving less than perfect attendance.

Coffee with the Principal

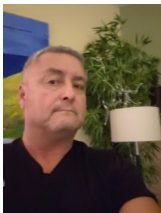

This month I am inviting parents to join me for a virtual 'Coffee with the Principal' meeting via Zoom. This is an opportunity to engage in informal conversation about all things DLA. The date for our first meeting will be Wednesday October 21, 2020 at 11:00am. The Zoom link is provide here to access the meeting:

Desert Learning Academy Teacher Showcase: Mr. Roberto Wheaton

My name is Roberto Wheaton and I have been working at Desert Learning Academy since its inception in 2015. I was born in Wisconsin and grew up in LA's South Bay and North Idaho where I graduated from High School and attended the University of Idaho Moscow graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Earth and Social Science. Following graduation, I began my teaching career with the Seattle Public Schools where I taught Science and History at a K-12 School for 17 years. Leaving the Northwest for Southern California in 2002 I accepted a position at Cathedral City High School teaching science, HEAL, Earth Science, and coaching Boy's tennis.

In 2012 I transferred to Ramon Academy to teach history for two years while Desert Learning Academy was in the planning stages and volunteered to pilot Edgenuity. I choose to teach at DLA because of its K-12 configuration, commitment to developing modeling growth mindsets, technology-Learning Management System, and most importantly, the opportunity to work in a student-centered program where content teachers support and coach students to become successful independent learners.
